Flexibility is required as hours are subject to change for examinations, practical skills tests, work placements etc.

ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF ACADEMIC PERSONAL ASSISTANT

- To provide help with logistical and personal care requirements associated with attendance on a course of study during timetabled hours while on college campus.
- If required, to assist the student with commuting to and from college during a college's normal operating hours. If the student is travelling by bus, the PA can accompany the student to and from the bus stop on foot. Alternatively, the Personal Assistant can meet the student in the College Car Park on arrival should assistance be required from this point.
- Carry out practical tasks for students whose disability affects their ability to perform such tasks (informed by the Report and Assessment of Needs Interview). The PA should not 'do the work' but simply facilitate the student's ability to participate. He/she will not assist with, or complete, any of the work associated with the course of study and will not participate in class discussions etc, unless contributing directly on the student's behalf.

- A Personal Assistant is permitted to stay with the student during classes and any other location on campus that the student needs to access during their timetabled college day. The PA may also be asked to accompany students on field trips or work placement in certain circumstances agreed with Disability Co-Ordinator and college management.
- The role of a Personal Assistant is to help the student with tasks that the student's disability or condition would specifically hinder them from completing during while in college. Their role is to enable the student to fully attend during the college day and study independently and access course information. The specific help to be given should be discussed and agreed at the outset and informed by the Professional Report provided and the student themselves. A Personal Assistant is not a carer or nurse and can only provide help that is considered 'reasonable' and within the limitations of their role and the documentation provided.
- Personal Assistants only provide support during the agreed hours based on the student's timetable.
- The PA should maintain accurate signed records of the support provided to the student and submit these records to Disability Co-ordinator when requested.
- Punctuality is important.
- If unable to attend, immediate notice should be given to the College Principal and the student being supported.
